Four Candidates Seek Office of Village President

Petitions Filed by McMillen, Cunningham, Cermak and Rosenfeldt

A last minute filing by Trustee Arthur Rosenfeldt, placed four men in the field as candidates for village president at the special election Tuesday, Dec. 13.

Competing for the office in what is expected to be a strongly contested race will be James W. (Jim) McMillen, Murrill Cunningham, Charles Cermak and Rosenfeldt. Cunningham, a trustee serving as acting president of the village board was the first to file his petition to be placed on the ballot. He used an old form provided by the village clerk but when he learned there was a possibility that the type of petition was outmoded and possibly illegal, he filed a second one.

Jim McMillen, well known business man, fire chief, and famous athlete, was the second to be placed in nomination by his friends who presented a new form said to come within the law.

Cermak used the old form in filing Tuesday, and Rosenfeldt did likewise in filing last night.

Rosenfeldt has been on the village board nearly 12 years and is "dear" of the trustees. He has served on important committees.

Cunningham, elected to the board as trustee, disqualified himself in becoming constable, and was appointed to the office of trustee again by President Bartlett.

Cermak was Bartlett's opponent in the April election and was defeated.

McMillen was persuaded to run for the office by a group seeking efficient government who noted his success in other community organizations.

There is a five-day period in which candidates may withdraw, but after that the names will go on the ballot and they have a 30-day campaigning period.

Banquet for Rats Planned With Hope for Wholesale Slaughter of Rodents Here

People in the Antioch and Lake Villa area have been invited to become hosts at a banquet for rats.

The date of the banquet is set for Friday, November 18, the day after the supplies for it are received.

The hosts are urged to place their orders for the poison with the Lake County Farm Bureau by Saturday of this week. The bait will be delivered at the high school on Friday, Nov. 18.

Those in charge of the campaign say that the bait to be used is harmless to other animals and that farmers and townspeople need not be afraid to use it. The price will be low.

The campaign to get rid of rats is an effort to save a large amount of feed that they would destroy during the winter.

Parents of High School Students Attend Classes But They're Short Ones

Parents of Antioch Township High school students went to school Tuesday evening to the very same teachers by whom their children are taught.

The parents got a break in that they only had 10 minute classes and there was plenty of time between classes for a little visiting.

The teachers took the 10 minutes to inform the parents of the content and nature of the courses they were giving the children. After last night the parent and child could discuss the school work on more common ground.

At the close of the school period refreshments were served.

Petitions Seek to Put High School on Rte. 50 Instead of at Wilmot

Petition have been circulated that the proposed second high school in Kenosha county be built at the Brass Ball corner on Rte. 50 instead of at Wilmot.

The petition says that the new location will be more favorable as it is centrally located.

The election establishing the school at Wilmot, the population center, was declared illegal and the whole problem has been opened again.

The pamphlet circulated throughout the western part of Kenosha county says:

1. The proposed site for a centrally located high school consists of approximately 16 acres. It is located on the southwest corner of highway 50 and county trunk F. This is only 15 miles from the farthest corner of the district. The present Wilmot location is 23 miles from the same corner.

2. A greater number of high school students live nearer this central location than to the present Wilmot location.

3. The central location is accessible at all times by a choice of highways from all parts of the district.

4. Present building costs for modern rural schools in Wisconsin average about $25,000 per room, fully equipped and ready to operate. Therefore, a 22-room school built to accommodate 500 students would be $550,000. Add to this the cost of the land and necessary improvements, such as a well, grading, filter beds, driveways, parking area, lighted football field and baseball diamond, nor did it allow for the gymnasium, brings the cost to approximately $750,000.

The borrowing of $600,000 for the proposed addition at Wilmot did not include the cost of the additional acreage that the state recommends is needed for a school of this size, nor did it include the cost of grading (driveways, parking area, or a lighted football field and baseball diamond, nor did it allow for the additional expenses of driving pupils in the event that quicksand is encountered as was the case when the present building was built.

6. The land available at Wilmot does not join the present site directly. Therefore, the addition that was planned is designed to fit the space available and the question of economy and convenience had to be disregarded.

7. A modern school, centrally located and designed to anticipate our future needs, will be much more economical than to build an addition onto the present school; for then we will not be faced with the problem of building a new school in a few years from now. Those who are advocating an addition to Wilmot admit this addition is only a temporary solution.

Scout Leaders Training Program to Start Today

The will to do, and the know-how of Troop Organization is the idea of this training program. This course is so flexible that Scoutmasters, Assistants, Troop Committeemen, Scouters, and Scout Dads can all benefit by attending. All meetings will start at 7:45 p. m. All are invited.

Mr. Ed Scheweckle, Scout Executive of the Northwest District has organized a training staff of leaders from Antioch, Buffalo Grove, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Lake Villa, Libertyville, Mundelein and Round Lake.

Two Hunters Die as Hunting Season Opens In Chain O' Lakes Area

One hunter was killed by the discharge of his own shotgun and another died of heart disease as the duck hunting season got under way.

Lawrence Lyons, 20, of 369 W. Lexington st., Yorkfield, near Elmhurst, died instantly Tuesday when his 16-gauge shot gun went off and tore into his head.

The young man and three companions were hunting in Fox Lake. Lyons climbed from his boat onto a muskrat house for better shooting. After setting his foot on the mud mound he reached into the bottom of the boat for his gun which fired accidentally as he was lifting it out.

The Antioch Rescue squad was called and the body taken to the Strang funeral home where an inquest was held by Coroner Garfield Leaf. The body was taken to Yorkfield for burial.

Al Grant, 71-year-old Chicago cabinet maker, suffered a heart attack while hunting in Grass Lake Friday afternoon. He fell and in doing so his clothing caught the boat and turned it over. He was found beneath the boat and it was at first thought he had been shot, but a coroner's verdict was that death was from an heart attack. The body was taken to Chicago for burial.

The shooting on the lake was so heavy that it was necessary to have sheriff's deputies protect those who went out after the body.

The Antioch Rescue squad was called on the case.

Polishing touches are being given to the play "Out on a Limb" to be given next Thursday and Friday evenings, Nov. 17 and 18 by the Junior class of the Antioch Township High school.

The play is one that should please everybody, especially the parents of high school students because it whoosomely presents the teenage problem so clearly, those in charge of the play said. The public is urged to buy tickets immediately.

There are 11 members of the cast which already has been presented.

Committees serving in connection with the play are Jean Hawkins and Bernard Haviland, stage managers; Darlene Samger, John Clark, and Bernard Cosgrove, advertising; Marilyn Wallace, Betty Erickson, Richard Haak and Arlyn Schneider, ticket sales.

Pheasant Season Opens Tomorrow; Duck Season Opened on Last Friday

The din of firing that started last Friday with the opening of the duck hunting season will be accelerated tomorrow when the pheasant season opens.

The number of hunters in the Grass Lake area this year was as large as ever, and a large number got the limit. One youth proudly displayed two mudhens he had shot with a B-B gun.

According to reports there should be a substantial number of pheasants, but there will not be enough to go round if the number of hunters reaches expectations.

Game wardens are watching this area closely. Sheriffs deputies catching four Winthrop Harbor men hunting without permission on the farm of A. B. McDonald Rte. 45 near Loon lake, were content to book one of them, Henry Carter on a charge of driving a car without a license.

Christmas Seals Received at T. B. Headquarters

The 1949 Christmas Seals, featuring a modernistic drawing of a dove in flight, arrived recently at headquarters of the Lake County Tuberculosis Association, 15 No. County St., Waukegan, according to Mrs. Gerard Fossland, county seal sale chairman.

This year's seal was designed by 27 year old Herbert M. Meyers of Leona, N. J., whose original drawing won first prize in a nationwide contest conducted by the Society of Illustrators, a national organization of outstanding artists, illustrators, and art directors, with headquarters in New York City, Mrs. Fossland added.

With the approval and cooperation of the National Tuberculosis Association, the society sponsored the contest among students of accredited art schools all over the country. The selection of Mr. Meyers' design by a jury of Society Officials and American artists was corroborated by the National Tuberculosis Association's Christmas Seal Sale Advisory Committee which customarily makes the final choice of the Seal Sale design each year.

The 1949 Seal Sale, proceeds of which will be used to finance the Lake County Tuberculosis Association's program for the coming year, opens on November 21 and will continue until Christmas.

VanPatten, Borovicka Nearly Drowned While Hunting at Lake Marie

L. R. Van Patten, employed at the Williams store, and George Borovicka, proprietor of the Reeves Walgren drug store had a narrow escape from drowning while hunting on Lake Marie last Friday noon.

It was an experience that the two never want to repeat. They were preparing to hunt when a sudden squall came up and they decided to turn back toward shore. While they were turning the boat around, it dipped water and sank. As it came up overturned, Borovicka was able to grab hold of it, but Van Patten was too far away; neither could he make his way to it, and decided to try to get to shore supported by an inflated pillow.

When the wind died, Borovicka called for help and got it from some unidentified hunters, although one hunter in a nearby blind ignored him. They tied the druggist to their boat fearing that if they took him aboard they too, would be swamped, and took him ashore.

In the meantime they saw Van Patten was approaching land.

The stay in the icy waters was so severe to Van Patten and he swallowed so much water that he was exhausted and was unable to pull more than his head and shoulders out of the water at the beach.

Members of the Antioch squad gave him first aid and took him to his home at 1022 Victoria st., where he remained in a serious condition from shock until the next day.

On Monday the two were back at the lake again, but this time it was to hunt for the guns and other hunting supplies they lost, but had no success.

Antioch Loses Final Game of Football to Ela There 28 to 13

Antioch High school dropped its final game of the football season to Ela Township High school at Lake Zurich last Friday 28 to 13.

The game was an anti-climax to the game put up by the Sequoias against Grant the week before.

"Had we played our game the next day I feel sure the score would have been different," said Coach Kruzan.

Friday was the opening of the hunting season and the interest of the local boys that day was more on hunting than football, it was said.

Ela used plain crushing single-wing Minnesota type of football to win. The continual drive meant two touchdowns by the Bears in the first quarter and the points after touchdown were made in off-tackle plays. Antioch scored in that quarter on a forward pass Wiczorek to Haviland and Poulos kicked goal. During the rest of the half which ended 14 to 7 there was no scoring but Ela made two threats.

The Bears came back in the third quarter to score early bringing the score to 21 to 7. On a 30-yard run Poulos scored for Antioch but failed to convert. Ela scored in the final quarter, making the point after touchdown.

The final standing of the Northwest conference was as follows:

	W	L	Pts.	Opp.
Barrington	7	0	257	19
Ela (Lake Zurich)	4	2	114	77
Grant	4	3	58	79
Northbrook	4	3	83	64
Bensenville	3	3	59	76
Antioch	3	4	78	96
Palatine	2	5	63	92

Seek Architect to Plan High School Addition; Present Building Small

Physical Equipment for 500 Enrollment Considered in Planning

Momentum in the movement to get an addition to the Antioch Township High school building to take care of the rapidly increasing enrollment was evidenced this week when in a special meeting of the school board Wednesday, the first two of eight architects were interviewed with the purpose of selecting one to prepare plans.

Two more architects will be interviewed next week.

"We are anticipating our needs and are getting ready for them now rather than wait until an emergency arises," said Principal T. R. Birkhead.

The school at present has an enrollment of 280 which is about the limit of the present building and its equipment. The school board believes it must provide for an enrollment in the next five years of 500.

"At present we have six classrooms; we will need 11," said Mr. Birkhead.

Enlargement of the physical facilities must be in all directions. Already the shower and dressing rooms in athletics are inadequate; there must be great space for physical education, the principal indicated.

The cafeteria will soon be too small and the library soon will be inadequate. More rooms will be needed for the science laboratory courses, the industrial arts courses and the courses in agriculture.

There will need to be more library space and a larger auditorium, he said.

While the nature of the addition to the building will be largely up to the architect and his planning in the light of expenditures, Mr. Birkhead said that limited space at the rear of the present building will not permit a spread-out type of building but will necessitate a two-story structure.

American Innovations

It has been said that the function of the private enterprise system is to produce abundant merchandise and distribute it to consumers as quickly as possible.

That idea, as a general rule, always characterizes the American economy. There have been periods of great scarcity, as during the last war, when our energies were directed in other directions and the rule did not apply. There have been government policies, such as rationing and price control, which virtually did away with competition as we understand it and closed the traditional free channels of trade. At any time, in any field of endeavor, there are always a few who are afraid to take chances, and who look for ways and means to make a great deal of money without risking or venturing anything. But, in the long run, the successful manufacturer and the successful merchant are those who do the best producing and retailing job and constantly keep in mind that the welfare of the consumer always determines their own.

Today, we have returned to highly competitive conditions and we have a buyers' market for almost every kind of commodity. The retailer is looking for the best and most reasonably priced product—from manufacturers—and he is doing that because his customers are doing the same thing when they come to his store. The main effort is to keep the goods moving, even if profits must be pared to extremely low levels. The amount of money and merchandise that moves back and forth across the counters of stores is what determines whether times are good or bad in this country.

Mass production and mass distribution are American innovations. They represent private enterprise at its best.

Trouble On The Highways

Throughout the country, the problem of heavy commercial highway traffic has become acute—as a long list of governors, road commissioners, and other officials have testified.

First of all, the huge modern commercial truck-and-trailer outfits are breaking down the roads faster than we can maintain and rebuild them. Highways which are capable of withstanding the maximum weights are incredibly costly, and are not needed for ordinary motor car and truck traffic. This phase of the problem is complicated by the fact that some operators consistently disregard even the most liberal state laws governing weights.

The tax factor grows steadily more serious. This is a controversial matter. But it is clear that the motorists are, to varying degrees, subsidizing this particular commercial business. By comparison, the great industry with which the highway carriers compete, the railroads, must buy, build and maintain their own right of ways, and pay heavy taxes while so doing.

Finally, there is the question of highway safety. In California, for instance, the state public utilities commission has ordered an investigation into this phase of the matter. As the Reno Gazette observes, some commercial highway operators and drivers "regard the highways as their private right of way. Without regard to other traffic, they hog the roads, and by their sheer size and weight, force smaller vehicles to give way."

No industry can expect the public to accept this situation indefinitely. The fact that many states are seeking ways and means to correct it shows how the wind blows.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Folks, I am a kind of peaceful sort of citizen, but you know, she is beginning to look as if it is nearly time to whip out the old 6-shooter and clear the landscape of the crew, that is steering us right smack along the route chosen by that Britisher, Atlee. And look at Atlee's socialist England today—flat as a pancake. The gloom that comes from scarcities and Govt. bossiness grows thicker and thicker. The promised land, like a desert mirage, is beyond reach—just a little further—always, just a little further.

And now the U. S. A.—look at butter. What happens. Butter is tied up in Govt. warehouses—millions of pounds—and Govt. buying continues at the clip of around 750,000 pounds a day. Butter is beyond the reach of some. Synthetic scarcity has done it. It is not the groceryman or the dairyman—it is Sambo. He is the baby in the woodpile—and with our own money.

In all directions, from the Govt. power houses on the Columbia where the kilowatt business has been fozzled by Sambo's antics, we see electricity rationing is in again there. Our 48 governors will soon be just office boys.

When your senator or congressman gets home from Europe, or Asia, or Africa, from his "looking into conditions there," tell him you want butter—also much less Govt. fumididdles.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

SOO QUIZ: How much iron in an "iron horse"?

SOO LINE "iron horses" have been riding the iron ranges of Minnesota and Michigan for over 58 years. During that time we have moved mountains of iron ore from the ranges straight to docks on the Great Lakes.

It's freight that can't wait. For iron and steel are the staff of life to American industry. Railroads alone spend an average of $521,398,000 a year for iron and steel products. Use it for equipment like this powerful Soo Line locomotive above—which weighs 445,500 pounds!

Rolling the iron ore on wheels of steel to the foundries and mills, the Soo Line contributes to the nation's economy—your prosperity!

Reseeding

To aid in reseeding depleted ranges, many species and strains of grasses and legumes from different parts of the world have been tested in nurseries in the western, southern, and southeastern regions. Tests of the preference of grazing animals for a number of species, conducted in the intermountain region, show that preference value changes during the growing season and that some little-known species have a higher preference value than crested wheatgrass, an introduced species which has been seeded successfully on a good many thousand acres of deteriorated range land.

Undulant Fever

Undulant fever is widely prevalent in American rural areas and among urban slaughterhouse workers. Aside from handlers of raw meat of cattle, goats and swine, others contract the disease from the drinking of unpasteurized milk from cows infected with Bang's disease, the bovine strain of the disease.

Washed Eggs

It is harmful to wash eggs, says O. C. Ufford, poultry specialist for the Colorado A. & M. college extension service, because the shell of an egg is porous or full of tiny holes. These are filled with a gelatinous covering that keeps out bacteria. When eggs are washed it dissolves the protective covering and not only removes the dirt but may force some bacteria through the shell where they proceed to spoil the eggs.

"Hoboes of the Sky"

Ordinary meteors might be termed "hoboes of the sky" for they move around in random directions, unlike the great celestial bodies which have fixed courses.

Memento of Emerson

In the Chelsea home of Thomas Carlyle in London is a fragment of Emerson's own handwriting of a lecture given during the American Civil war.

Palladium

A use of palladium seldom associated with this precious metal is in the construction of delicate balance wheels for non-magnetic watches.

Bacteria in Food

A beam of light produced by a 2 million-volt generator can kill bacteria in food without raising the temperature of the food more than two degrees Centigrade.

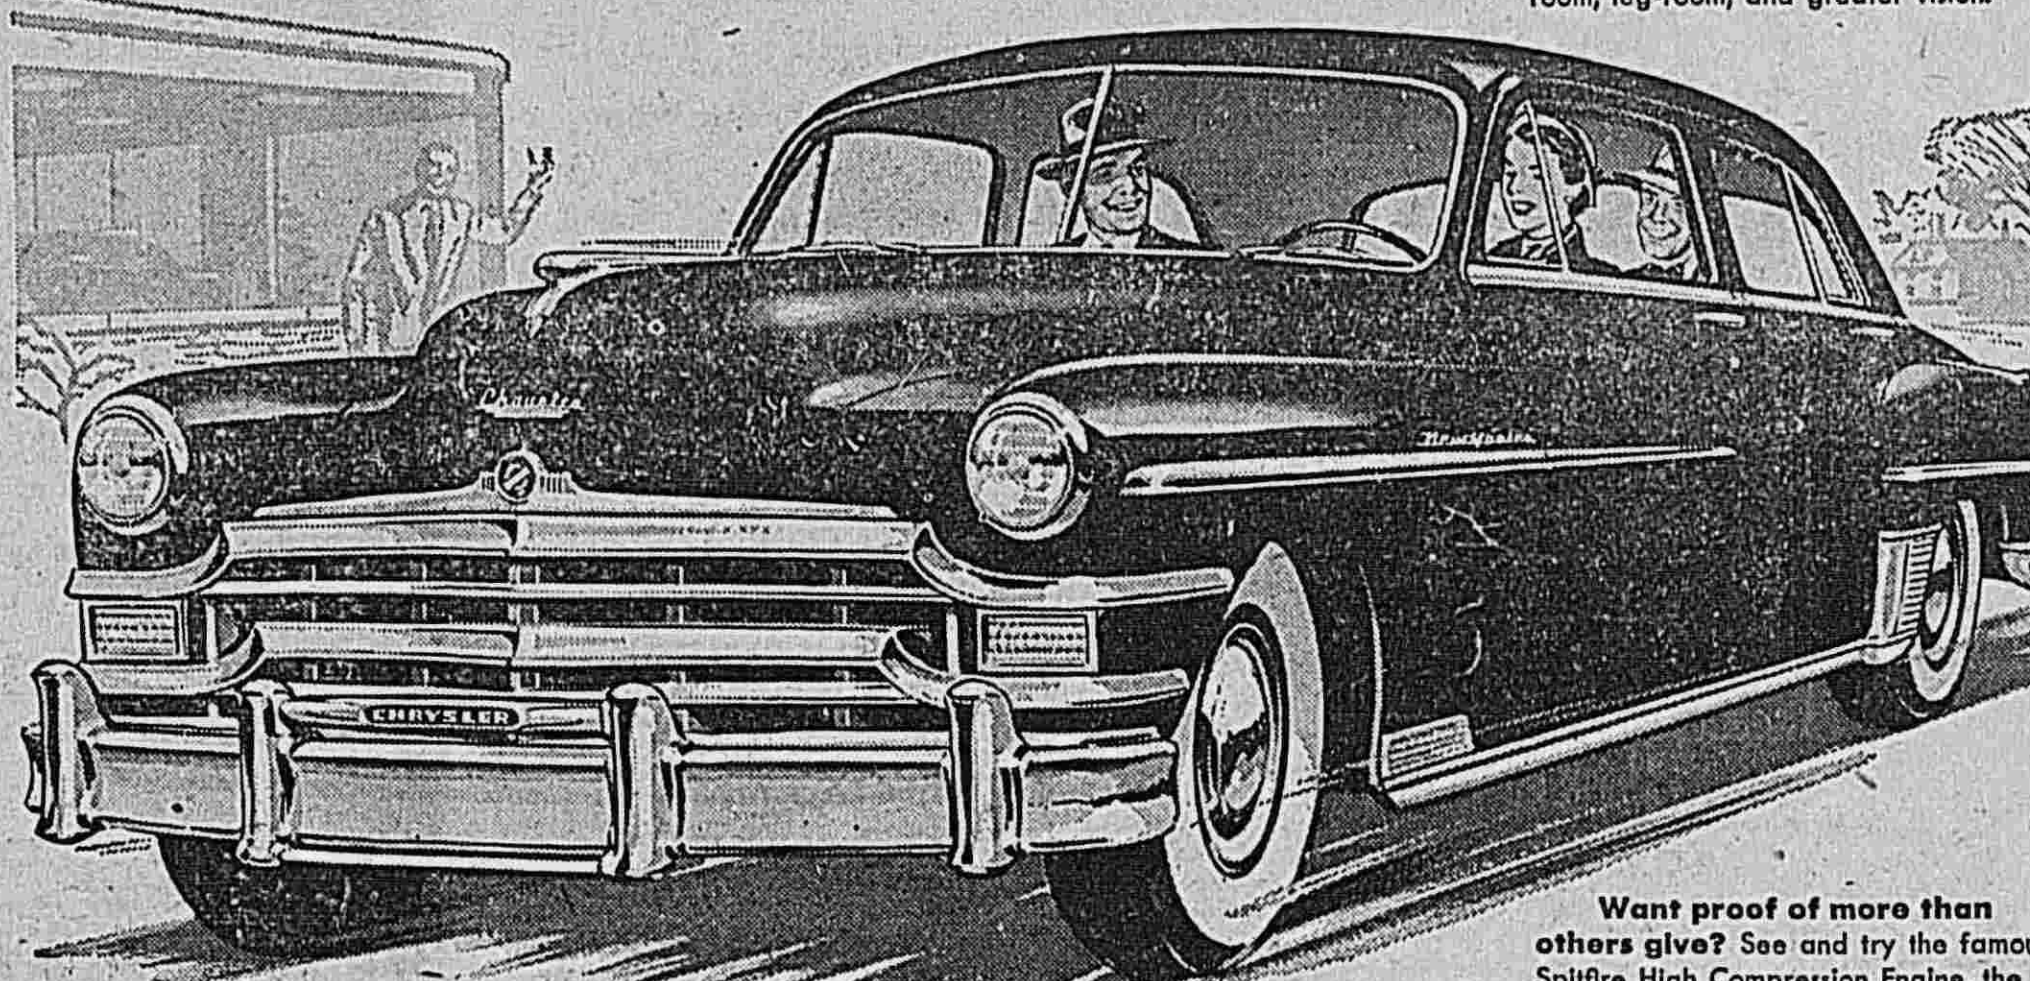

Telltale Sign

If a horse stops sweating, or its muscles begin to tremble, while working in the field, it indicates approaching heat-stroke. Prompt treatment is essential in such cases.

Stumps Us

All the original land surveys around Lake Pungo in North Carolina are tied to an ancient cypress tree on the lake shore, the stump of which is still standing.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

All over the world today, there are people teaching bitterness and hate.

Here in America we have learned to live together in friendship.

For us here at A&P, it has been a wonderful and thrilling experience to get from those with whom we compete day after day such astounding evidence of friendship and respect.

The things that have happened since the anti-trust lawyers from Washington brought suit to destroy A&P have amazed us.

While we sincerely believed that we had earned the friendship of millions of consumers for whom we have provided better food at lower prices, and the friendship of millions of farm families for whom we have provided a better market for their produce, we were not prepared for the avalanche of offers of support.

But most of all, we have to confess that we had underestimated the fine sportsmanship of many of our competitors all over the country.

Can anyone believe that these competitors would rush to our defense if, as the anti-trust lawyers allege, we had been trying to put them out of business?

We and they have fought hard for business.

There are nearly 350,000 individual grocers competing with us. They have a larger share of the nation's grocery business today than they had ten years ago or twenty years ago.

Many of them do as good a job as we do, and they make it plenty tough for us.

Now, day after day, these same competitors are letting us know that they are in our corner.

All we can say is, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

Who hollered for Uncle?

Who wants him to break up A&P?

COULD IT BE INDEPENDENT GROCERS? Doesn't seem likely. In ten years America's independent storekeepers almost tripled their business. In 1938 they did just under 5½ billion dollars worth of food business. Last year the independent storekeepers handled over 15 billion dollars worth of food.

WHOLESALE GROCERS? Hardly. For many of them are directly or indirectly engaged in or supporting some form of voluntary or cooperative chain to match chain economies.

THE EMPLOYEES? That would be funny—except that some folks probably believe it. Actually, less than 25 years ago many food chain stores could have paid all expenses—rent, heat, light, wages, etc.—out of the money a store manager alone gets paid now. And the store manager of 25 years ago would have been happy to get what a clerk gets today.

PRODUCERS? Well, take farmers. Certainly part of their prosperity must be attributed to the markets that big chains create for them. The big chains buy the entire pack of many a canner. Those canneries pack the farmers' crops. What would the farmer do with his highly perishable crop if the food chains were eliminated as big volume buyers?

COMPETING CHAINS, MAYBE? No. Practically every chain in the grocery business had more sales last year than the year before. One chain that we know a lot about increased its food business 21% last year and is up 19% in the first eight months of this year.

THEN IT CERTAINLY MUST BE THE PEOPLE! Like fun. If the people hated food chain stores, would they have spent 9½ billion dollars in them last year? Folks like the low prices and high standards of chains—and the better the chains are run, the better folks like them.

Does This Sound as Though We Need Help? Thorofare Super Markets came into existence 10 years ago. The food chains Thorofare replaced were doing about three million dollars worth of business a year. Housewives liked our policies well enough to boost their purchases in our 90 stores to about 30 million dollars a year.

We call that a vote of confidence. And we're going to keep right on proving that as long as we stick to good brands and better-than-average selections at rock-bottom prices, we can compete with anybody in the business. And keep right on growing, too!

We don't believe any chain will be punished for being efficient, or for pleasing housewives so well that it is forced to grow.

We, too, believe that it is a storekeeper's duty to bring the public the best food at the lowest possible prices, and hope to see the chain store way of doing business vindicated.

And as long as the producers, the employees, the customers, the wholesale grocers, the independents and the competing chains thrive so well, we will continue to think it's a good way to do business.

We Don't Want the A&P Put Out of Business

The owner of the undersigned store is an independent merchant in this community. We run our own store, set our own prices, maintain our own policy. We consider the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. as a chain store. Because they are a chain they give us stiff competition. The competition offered by the A&P keeps us on our toes.

The Department of Justice has brought a suit against the A&P claiming that the A&P is a monopoly.

Whether it is or not we are in no position to judge.

What we do know is that the A&P doesn't do all of the grocery business in this area. We are here and ready to serve local customers.

WE DON'T WANT TO SEE THE A&P PUT OUT OF BUSINESS.

The A&P is keeping food prices down. We in turn keep our prices down; and that helps us to sell more goods.

KUGLER'S
SUPER - FOOD MARKET
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

I Welcome A&P Competition BECAUSE

• • • • like myself, many hundreds of independent grocers got their start with the TEA COMPANY.

• • • • The great A&P is not detrimental to the progress of the grocery business. On the contrary, A&P has always been beneficial to any open-minded businessman who believes in FREE ENTERPRISE. Founded on the principle of FAIR PLAY and FAIR PRICES, A&P developed from a humble start to its present commanding position in the field of retail merchandising.

• • • • My experience as a former employee of the TEA COMPANY has served me well. I attribute my success to the ideas and methods tried, tested and proven by the A&P stores—at a great cost.

• • • • A&P upholds the rights and privileges of a good worker. I know this from personal experience. A&P is ever on the lookout to promote sincere and ambitious employees to trustworthy and important positions and has never crossed the efforts of any employee to enter into business for himself. A&P helped me to start in business... IS THAT AN ACT OF A COMPANY MONOPOLIZING THE GROCERY BUSINESS? NO!

A&P taught me to serve the public BETTER—MORE ECONOMIC and MORE EFFICIENT, thanks to the start given me by B. F. VINSON.

• • • • During the depression of the thirties, A&P paid higher wages than any other chain. A&P has striven to think what would happen to its 110,000 employees if it was forced out of business.

• • • • I am not afraid of A&P competition—I welcome it. It's democratic—it's the American Way.

We Agree With A&P

Yes, we want our A&P competitors to stay in business on their present scale because we know what it would mean to the American people without them. We are only one store and are striving to serve our community with good food at low prices, but the A&P is a nationwide organization serving the American people everywhere with good food at low prices.

Destroying the A&P would mean eliminating competition nationally in the food field which every poor man knows consumes the major portion of his salary.

We congratulate the A&P for a job well done. Keep up the fight.

We welcome any fair competition which helps us bring lower food prices to the consumer.

A COMPETITOR'S OPINION of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

The self-styled "trust busters" of the government recently made head-destroy the A&P.

Frankly, we don't like it.

A&P is charged with having control of SOME of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they can offer foods at low prices.

So What... And if monopoly of the food business is charged, that sure hands us a laff. We... at P.P.M. are growing like wildfire. Seems like we're able to sell better foods at better prices.

Your increasing patronage of our stores is positive proof that A&P has no monopoly on the food business. Let's get down to good old American horse sense. A&P is doing a good job of serving the people of this country. They're no bogey men. We are for them 100% in this controversy.

This suit is another threat against our great American system of free enterprise. Women Found Able As Men At Car Wheel

MILWAUKEE. — Stifle those laughs about women drivers. The girls are just as handy with the wheel as with the skillet.

That's the opinion of several driving instructors here. One believes that the best pupils are housewives in their early 30s. Why? He doesn't know.

The driving instructors chuckle over some of the incidents that occur during lessons.

"An elderly widow with a Dixie drawl was proceeding down Lake dr. on a busy afternoon when suddenly she wound up in the left lane," related instructor Roger L. Moody.

"Oncoming cars were splitting up around her like the tide around a rock. Her instructor steered the car over to the other side, whereupon she drawled, 'We sure did get out of that nice, didn't we.'"

Another anecdote Moody likes to tell concerns a man. Learning to shift on Lincoln Memorial dr., the man yanked the steering wheel to the right and placed the car in line with the lagoon. Immediately he reached for the brake but stepped on the gas instead.

The wheels were on the grass, with the car poised for a leap into the water when the novice handed over the situation to the teacher. He never returned for another lesson.

Many Questions Asked

Are there many stupid questions? Yes, the instructors say, but "you get so used to dumb questions you cease to consider them dumb." Shifting frequently is difficult for beginners. Irritated, they inquire at stops: "Do I have to shift and start all over again?"

From back seat to front seat driver is quite a jump for some women.

"It's hard for many women to learn to steer," an instructor said. "They're used to being passengers and looking to the side. Now they have to look ahead."

Sex, age and occupation have little influence on whether a pupil will make a good driver.

Some teen agers take to autos like race horses to a track. Others plod along and fail to earn their licenses from the state motor vehicle department even after finishing the customary six lessons and being awarded their diploma from the school.

A former B-24 pilot learned the fundamentals in two hours while a used car dealer quit in despair.

From 16 to 78

Youngsters of 16 take the course. The oldest pupil was 78. He had bought a new car but could find no one with patience enough to teach him to drive. He learned in three weeks. Most of the pupils take 10 days.

"A woman about 40 said she was happier about getting her driver's license than her marriage license," an instructor commented.

Families have registered; so have bridge clubs, prospective drivers for welfare groups, two rabbis and a young policeman.

Milk Among U.S. Top Five In Popular Drink Tests

NEW YORK.—People who think the average U.S. citizen is a hard-drinking man-about-town have another thing coming, on the basis of figures that show just what he drinks each year.

Milk, beer, soft drinks, coffee and canned fruit and vegetable juices are the nation's five most popular beverages, according to an American Can Company analysis of government and industry figures.

On a per capita basis, the average inhabitant of this country last year consumed some 180.5 quarts of milk, 71.2 quarts of beer, 48 quarts of soft and carbonated drinks, 38.7 quarts of coffee and 8.3 quarts of canned fruit and vegetable juices, as compared with 4.7 quarts of hard liquors. Cans are used in some form in the packing and distribution of all five of the favorites, the study showed.

An almost five-fold increase in per capita consumption of canned fruit and vegetable juices during the past 10 years was noted in the analysis. New methods and processes for canning fresh-flavored orange, tomato and grapefruit juices were given credit for a major part of the increases.

No figures were available on consumption of the world's number one drink—plain water.

Yo-yo Staging Comeback In Several Universities

ANN ARBOR, MICH.—A University of Michigan philosophy professor had to stop a class because of a disturbance in the last row. Upon investigation he found the student trying a difficult "loop-the-loop" with a yo-yo, the latest college fad.

Once apparently buried with raccoon coats, goldfish, swallowing, crew haircuts, and midget golf, stores at Ann Arbor report a huge sale of the spinning disks to Michigan students.

Anthony Barrett, Summer Resident of Pistakee Lake in Auto Accident

Anthony Barrett, 38, a resident of Pistakee lake, suffered shock and head and shoulder injuries Sunday night when his automobile rolled over into a field on Rte. 21 a mile north of Grand ave.

Barrett, an employee of the Pontiac Printing Co., Chicago, had been working late at a special project and it is believed that he either went to sleep from fatigue while driving or had a tire blow out.

He was taken to Victory Memorial hospital by the Antioch Rescue squad to have his injuries dressed. Sheriff's deputies said Barrett drove off the east side of the road going north and came to rest 150 feet off the highway in the field. His car was a total wreck.

Judith Meyer

laid to rest one year ago today. I cannot say—and I will not say—that she is dead—she is just away. With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand.

She has wandered into an unknown land

And left us dreaming how very fair

It needs must be, since she lingers there,

And you-O you-who the wildest yearn

For the old-time step and the glad return

Think of her faring on—as dear

In the love of There, as the love of Here;

Think of her still as the same, I say:

Polio Precautions

If polio hits in your vicinity this year, you can help by avoiding crowds where you may be close to another's breath and cough. Stay off trains, busses, and congested street cars if possible. Avoid over-fatigue among persons of all ages, particularly children. Too active play, late hours, and worry can all invite a more serious form of the disease.

LAKE VILLA

Church News
Sunday, November 13, will be Youth Day in the Lake Villa church. The day will begin with church school at 9:45. Mrs. Glenn McNeil, Mrs. R. E. Harrison and Mr. Delbert Sherwood teach challenging classes that are well attended by young folks. At 10:55 the morning worship will be especially planned with the likes of teen-agers, and their parents in mind. The entire service will have as its theme "Youth" and a very special series of sermons will be launched under the general topic of "If I were Young Again". One of these sermons will be delivered each month for the next four months. These messages have been enthusiastically received by hundreds of teenagers in scores of churches in Oklahoma and Wisconsin. They say their titles suggest speak about the problems of young people in the language the youth understand and appreciate. The first message, Sunday morning will be "If I were Young Again, I'd Mow 'Em Down." In December the Youth Day sermon will be, "If I were Young Again, I'd See What's Cooking." Topics for January and February will be announced later.

Sunday evening the program of the Youth Fellowship group will be launched. At 6:45 a candlelight worship service will be lead by the Intermediate department. At 7:00 a recreation hour of active games and folk dances will be concluded with light refreshments. Yes, Sunday is Youth Day at Lake Villa. Best for Watermelons
A well-drained, rich sandy loam soil is best for watermelon production.

New Plaster Needs
Unfinished plaster needs a special coating of size or primer-sealer before a paint coating is applied. Paint of the water-thinned type can be put on without such a preliminary coating.

Water for Trees
One apple tree with 100 thousand leaves needs about 800 lbs. (or 96 gals.) of water in a single day. Some of the large trees have millions of leaves on a single tree, and consequently use tons of water.

Feldspar
About 85 per cent of all the feldspar mined in the U.S. comes from the Spruce Pine area of North Carolina.

Weight of Woods
All woods would be of the same specific gravity were it not for the fact that because of variation in the size of the cell cavity and its thickness of cell wall, some have more wood substance than others.

Newcastle Virus
The virus which causes Newcastle disease in poultry can be carried on shoes, clothing, crates and vehicles.

Pots and Pans
New pots and pans with copper sandwiched between two layers of stainless steel distribute heat evenly and are easy to keep clean.

Fat on Fire
If fat in the pan gets on fire, smother it with wet towels. Never pour on water because it makes the fat spatter and may spread the blaze.

The Leichner
Corn Crib

Capacity, 1150 Bushels Ear Corn

12 feet six inches high and 16 feet in diameter

The 10 upright members, 40 lateral members, and 12 wire stretching angles are all 2½x2x3/16 structural steel angle iron. Each joint is reinforced with 1½x1½x3/16 additional angle iron.

The three 4 foot wide wire mesh bands are supported at the top and bottom of each band by hooks spaced every 13 inches in the lateral members. This prevents sagging or bulging of the wire mesh and any loss of the stored corn.

The bands are made of 11 gauge galvanized welded steel wire mesh spaced 2x4 inches.

The roof is made in 20 sections of 26 gauge galvanized steel supported at each joint by 1½x1½x3/16 angle iron bolted to the outer frame and to a two foot loading port in center. This port is covered with a one piece 22 gauge galvanized steel cone 36 inches in diameter.

All structural members are assembled with one size bolts (¾x1) thus facilitating erection. The roof sheets are attached to angle iron supports with ¾x¾ inch bolts. All parts not galvanized are painted with a zinc chromate base paint.

Instructions for assembling are included with each crib

HEALTH IN EARTH

Soil Holds Drug Secrets

CHICAGO.—The interest of medical scientists all over the world has been stirred in the probable potential of soils in many sections producing powerful drugs which will cure some of the most baffling diseases, the national society for medical research has reported.

As a result, the scientists are gathering samples of soil around the globe so that careful analysis may be made to determine whether they contain microbes and molds which are far more precious than gold or any other metals which have provided the main incentives for such explorations in the past.

The hunt was started after Paul R. Burkholder, Eaton professor of botany at Yale university, New Haven, Conn., isolated the mold which makes the drug Chloromycetin from a handful of soil picked up in Venezuela, South America.

First Effective Drug

Chloromycetin turned out to be the first drug effective in combating such diseases as typhus and typhoid fever, and therefore immediately joins the select company of antibiotics, such as penicillin and streptomycin which now hold ranking positions in medical science's arsenal against the worst maladies of mankind.

Amazing new techniques for analysis in the laboratory and determination of the properties of drugs are credited with helping man to discover for the first time in the long history of his inhabitation of this planet some of the greatest health giving properties of "the good earth."

Only a little of any particular soil is needed for analysis. When molds and microbes are discovered, the stage is set for a long series of studies to find what they will do. Finally the drugs are given long tests on experimental animals in the laboratories, and after their properties are labeled and their safety determined for the living organism, they are ready for administering to humans.

One of the most extensive searches for soils to be analyzed has been undertaken by the same Yale university laboratories which were the scene of Dr. Burkholder's great discovery.

Collecting Samples

A graduate research student, Richard A. Besnedict of Brooklyn, N. Y., has arrived in South America and is collecting 5,000 samples of soil from all sections of the continent.

His trip will cover 15,000 miles and describe an area from Buenos Aires to Mexico City. Its most hazardous portions will be in the jungles of the Amazon areas of Brazil and in the high altitudes of the Andes between Argentina and Peru.

His "harvest" will be thousands of carefully sealed two-inch plastic tubes. The U.S. Department of Agriculture has arranged for expediting the samples through the Customs offices of this country, and in addition to the medical research planned, there will be studies for soil conditions generally.

Since the samples will come from areas which never have been under cultivation and those which have been tilled for hundreds of years by Indians and settlers the first full soil picture of South America may be a by-product of whatever medical discoveries result.

Air Force Completes New Jet Fighter Test

LOS ANGELES.—The United States air force has announced that its newest jet fighter, the Lockheed F-90, has successfully completed its first test flight at the Muroc flight test base.

Tony Levier, Lockheed's chief engineering test pilot, kept the needle-nosed, swept-wing plane aloft for 37 minutes. The Air Force revealed no statistical data on the new fighter, but Mr. Levier said it handled as smoothly and easily as the F-80 Shooting Star, now in operation.

The F-90 is one of the largest fighters ever built, weighing about 26,000 pounds. Levier said he climbed to 15,000 feet in 10 minutes, but added that this was not the ship's maximum rate of climb. Most of the test was devoted to stalling maneuvers, he said, and in this respect the plane was comparable to the smaller F-80.

Boy Scouts Cut Age Of Joining One Year

WASHINGTON.—Entrance ages for the three groups of Boy Scouts have been reduced one year each by the national council.

Colgan Norman, president of the area council, Boy Scouts of America, announced the changes, effective September 1. Ages for cubs have been cut from 9 to 8; scouts 12 to 11, and senior scouts, 15 to 14.

Yielding to a consistent demand, principally by boys wanting to be scouts before they are 12, the national council reduced the ages at a Boston meeting, Norman said. Scout headquarters made a five-year survey and the plan, tried experimentally in different parts of the country, was found to be extremely successful, he added.

First Bootleggers

The Tuscarora Indians of North Carolina were among the first bootleggers, carrying forbidden rum to tribes of the interior, and selling it by the mouthful. The purchaser hired the tribesman with the biggest mouth as his scale, the mouth-man spewing the rum into bowl brought along as a receptacle.

Enamel Coverage

One pint of enamel covers approximately 65 square feet; one-half pint, about 30 square feet.

Back-saving Technique

The easiest way to paint a chair or small table, is to turn the piece of furniture upside down and paint the underneath portions first.

Grain Bins

It pays to get grain bins clean and ready for the new crop well before harvest.

Native State

The subject of the great painting, Whistler's Mother, was born in North Carolina.

Chlorine Manufacture

Virtually all the chlorine manufactured in the United States is made by splitting brine into chlorine and alkali by means of an electric current.

Ozark Hogs

Sale of feeder hogs is an important part of the hog enterprise in the Ozark region.

Time Milking

A milking machine should not be left on a cow longer than three to five minutes. A cow will only "let down" her milk for this length of time.

Price of Cows

In May, 1949, the average price of milk cows in Ohio was $185 per head—this was equal to the value of 5,600 pounds of milk.

Norwegian Freighters

Shipbuilders at Oslo are putting heroic-size prow figures on streamlined motor freighters built for the far-flung trade of Norway's all-important merchant marine.

Leader

North Carolina ranks first in the United States in number of lumber and basic timber products plants.
